Dear Mikey Babe,
It's even worse trying to not think of something to say to you, too. Like, I love you too, Boo Boo. I'll get you in the ribs, too, one of these days in Social Studies
Your friend,
Paul

Dear Mike,
I wish you the happiest, the most enjoyable, the most enriching and memorable National Jello-Walk that you have ever experience.
Cheryl Wily

Mike (sob sob), your back was sooooo wonderful this Jahr im Englishe that I may be there next-year.

Mike-

Between All-American Mary and Uncle Mac, she's been a long year. Well, until next year, good luck, have fun, (don't do much that I wouldn't do) and don't work too hard.

Will see you.

Mary Mac

Hi Mike!
Its really been a good (?) year in physics - well for you anyway! Have fun next year and watch out for those proms! See you

Judy.

Mike:
Well, we've almost made it through old 9$^{3-4}$ Rm. 243.
I didn't think we ever would.
Best of Luck. Maybe we'll see you this summer.
Diana Preston

Mike
Best of luck if you continue with third year German - you'll need it if you get Hutchy.
Jerry Harrington

Mike,
It's been fun
with you in E.D.-6 E this year. See you next year.
Have a good vacation. Don't work too hard.

ADMINISTRATORS DIRECT PROGRAM

An administrator must have many individual talents and abilities. He must become an integral part of a team, where four people work as one. Mr. Charles Jones, Wilson's principal for two years, coordinates and directs all school activities. Completing the staff are Wilson's three vice-principals. Mrs. Mabel Whitted heads the counseling program; Mr. William Craig is responsible for attendance and discipline; and Mr. James Fenwick guides the school's curriculum.

There are three Vice principals trying To keep up with the Jones Jimmie, Mabel, Billie. Well, Well, Well, Wells you better help ahead of them.

ART STUDENTS NOTABLE

A year passes . . . a year in which skills are bettered . . . a year in which Wilson is again distinguished by its outstanding success in art competition.
Courses offered include general and commercial art, and pottery, for the beginner; the more advanced student can participate in an art seminar. This year, an art understanding class was added to the curriculum, giving students a background in art history. The publicity class is responsible for the production of posters which promote attendance at all school functions.
A year passes . . . a year of hard work and increasing knowledge . . . a year in which each student, talented or not, finds his place in the art room.

BUSINESS EDUCATION PREPARES

The story of the metamorphosis from a "hunt and pecker" to an accomplished typist is a tale of struggling, of exasperation, and hopefully of final success. Potential secretaries and the college-bound hover over typewriters in an attempt to master their dexterity for future needs.

A similar story might be recounted in the shorthand classes. Students earnestly strive to instill into their brains the proper directions for uncooperative fingers manipulating uncooperative pencils to manufacture seemingly legible symbols.

Business machines offer students the opportunity to practice for future vocations. All other courses in the business education program prepare and qualify students for future employment or some phase of their personal life.

COMBINATION EFFECTS TRANSITION

Combined English-Social Studies classes on the freshman level effect a smooth transition from the single classroom system of elementary school to the more complex situation existing in our high schools. The social studies curriculum covers the cultures of western Europe, Asia, and Africa from historical to contemporary times. The English course offers segments on study skills, composition, grammar and a unit on Homer's Odyssey.

The combination of English and social studies has not only accomplished its aim of aiding the individual adjustment of freshman students, but has proved to be a most effective way of acquainting students with the interdependence of the two subjects.

STUDENTS DISCOVER LANGUAGE ARTS

The world of language arts, reading, writing, listening, and speaking, unfolds every day to all students answering the challenge of English. Many courses are offered at Wilson in this field. In the regular course of study, the freshmen combine English and social studies, vocations are emphasized at the sophomore level, and juniors grapple with poetry and American literature. As seniors, students may choose to study either English or contemporary literature, or they may work at developing specialized composition skills. Extra courses not less in value are Drama and effectiive reading for college preparation.

All of these courses uphold the objective of the department which is to instill in the students an appreciation of world literature, and to teach the technical aspects of their language through original composition.

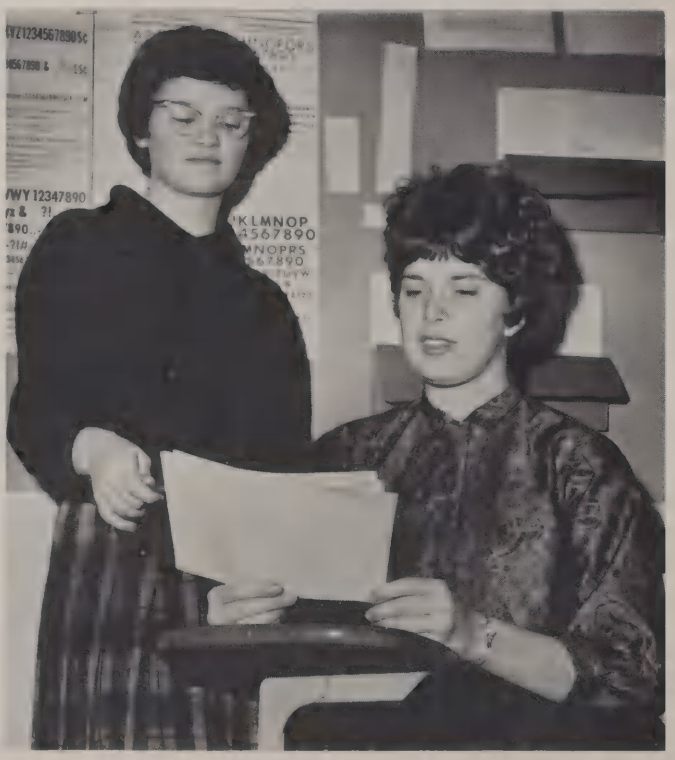
STATESMAN REPORTS YEAR

Students find themselves well informed on all phases of school activities due to the efficient coverage of the bi-monthly Statesman, supervised by Mrs. Bush.

Prepared to carry out this tremendous task is the Statesman staff, comprised of students who complete one semester of journalism and desire experience in newspaper work.

Many staff members take part in the annual journalism institute in Eugene and the Pacific Slope Press Conference at the University of Washington to learn the newest journalism techniques. Participation in writing competition was made possible by Pacific University at Forest Grove.

Both the first class ratings it has received from the National Scholastic Press Association and its enthusiastic acceptance by the student body attest to the high quality of the Statesman.



Co-editors Susan Karr and Marcia Willman make final check on copy for their cub edition.

YEARBOOK SEEKS HIGH SCHOOL PORTRAYAL

This yearbook has gone to press. The deadlines are met. It is finished.

Staff members are at this moment scattering their separate ways, no longer bound in the fellowship which comes from working hard in a common cause. No one but a staff member will know how hard that work was, nor how rewarding. From the beginning: picking a workable theme, scratching out ideas on layout sheets, writing and rewriting copy, developing a myriad of pictures, and pleading for advertising, there was a kinship. When one worried, everyone worried; when one laughed, everyone laughed; when one jubilant shout of triumph rang out, the whole room clamored with congratulations. In a few years, these memories will mean more; right now there is only relief that the job is done.

This yearbook has gone to press. The deadlines are met. It is finished.

LANGUAGES LINK WORLD

The excellence of Wilson's foreign language department stems from the combination of a capable staff and the enthusiastic participation of pupils. Four-year courses in Spanish, French, German, Russian, and Latin, teach the mechanics of linguistics and familiarize students with the cultural background of language origin.

This year with the installation of a new langauge laboratory the student was able to hear language spoken correctly, attempt to reproduce what he heard, and listen to his own effort for critical analysis.

Lingvisto, the foreign language club, was another innovation which takes learning a language out of the "antiseptic" atmosphere of the classroom, and into the pleasant informality of a social gathering.

DOORS OPEN TO REWARDING STUDY OF HOMEMAKING

Through the doors of the home economic department, a girl enters into a study of her present and future environment.

By studying herself and her family as well as the management of time, energy, and money, a girl learns to better understand and accept her present place in family and community life. The growth and supervision of children, the construction of garments and the essence of grooming, and the skill of food preparation are other areas studied to give a girl confidence in making plans for her future.

The curriculum offers an entrance into a sphere of homemaking, and the knowledge and experience gained here will long be remembered.

As the sun is the center of the universe, Wilson's library is the focal point of the school's academic activity. About it revolves the academic life of students, who make use of the energy that is radiated from the vast supply of books, the fuel for intellectual life. Each year 1500 new books are added to the Wilson library to help satisfy the increased demands of its universe.

The life-giving knowledge in this library is not only bound in books, but also recorded on tapes, pictured on slides, and reproduced on records. This great variety of resources allows any Wilson student to find his own special interest among countless literary worlds. This high level of achievement of the students testifies to the indispensibility of the school's library —the center of Wilson's academic life.

MATH INCITES THINKING

Assistance provided by Wilson's able mathematics department complements the student's own diligence in ascending a mental ladder. The freshman's hesitant progress in algebra provides knowledge necessary to mount the higher rungs of geometry, trigonometry, and elementary calculus. Students who excel in this subject may be honored with success in local competition and membership in the math honorary. Ultimately the student may realize his objective, whether it is general scholarship, excellence in applied mathematics, or comprehension of theory. All, however, are given an opportunity to reach the bourne of the artist, the highest platform on "the ladder of human thought"—a panoramic view providing insight into the intricacies of human experience in their limitless, rigorous forms.

MUSIC INVIGORATES ALL

Choral music enables its students to travel anywhere in the world through any period of history by merely enjoying a piece of music. Songs of Europe meet those of Asia and South America—representatives of all the hemispheres—songs of Bach, Brahms and other old masters mingle with the tunes of modern composers.

Hours of practice culminate in the performance of these compositions. Senior choir members don their green robes, and the junior choir and various glee groups deck themselves out in their best. The eagerly anticipated moment arrives and all groups attempt to transform their enthusiasm and joy in singing to enjoyable listening for their audience.

SAY IT WITH MUSIC

Music talent finds a means of expression as instruments are readied in preparation for another day in the instrumental music department. The senior band practices for various performances: parades, games, and concerts. Promotion to senior band is the hopeful goal of those playing in the junior and freshman bands. Orchestra members strive to perfect the concert pieces for which they are so well known. The music room represents an inner-sanctum to those whose love for music has led them to this form of self-expression.

EFFORT EQUALS BENEFIT

Health and Physical Education teachers work hard helping students adjust themselves to the demands of living in our society. Sophomores learn more about the problems they will one day face, while in P.E., students develop strength and co-ordination. Perhaps the most difficult but rewarding lesson to learn is good sportsmanship in victory or defeat. The classes strive to achieve the threefold goal of improving body, intellect, and character. It is a self-help program under the guidance of well-trained teachers in which the student gains only as much as he is willing to contribute.

SCIENCE BECKONS MANY

Wilson's science program offers curricula designed to satisfy both the liberally and the scientifically oriented. The primary course, general science, prepares students for studies in biology, chemistry, physics and physical science. These subjects provide basic knowledge necessary for application in our seminar program, in college courses, or in other fields.
Wilson reflects a national concern with progress in science. Such new innovations as the PSSC physics course promise to create broadly oriented scientists from our generation. Wilson's annual preliminary to the regional Science Fair provides supervised competition between individuals. Successful Fair entrants may be honored nationally in addition to their local recognition.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS OFFER SKILL AND EXPERIENCE

Industrial Arts develops the intrinsic mechanical abilities necessary for life in an industrial world. Specialization in the fields of wood-work, metal-work, and mechanical drawing open vistas of knowledge and opportunity for each student.

Perfection, accuracy, and tireless patience are all virtues developed by Industrial Arts students. Practical experience and the understanding of the basic tools of industry gives the student the proper background for intelligent decisions regarding future vocations.

SOCIAL STUDIES ENCOMPASSES MAN'S DEVELOPMENT

All phases of life, from the earliest cavemen to the newest rocketships, are covered in the social studies department at Wilson. The freshmen gain knowledge of the roots of civilization and cultures of Europe. World history is offered as an elective course for sophomores. American history affords juniors a study of our heritage, and American problems places senior year emphasis on current issues—social, economic, and international. The innovation of rotating senior history classes enabled seniors to receive specialized instruction in the several timely areas concerning contemporary problems.

STUDENT LIFE

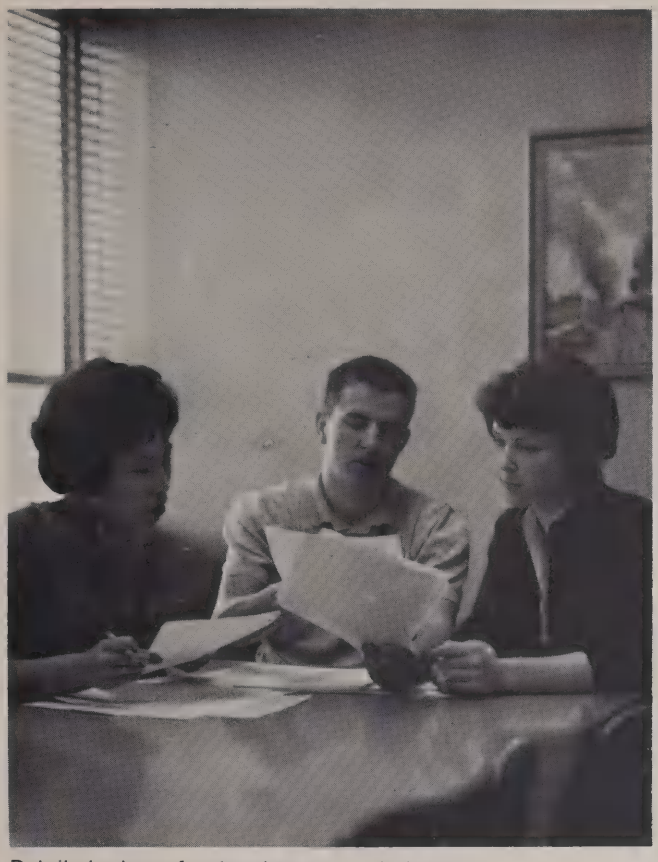
TIM BRACY
Fall Student Body President

TO THE STUDENT BODY:

The future of Wilson exists within the hands of each individual student. Upon entrance to these halls, each is endowed with rich heritage of excellence which instills pride and a realization of responsibility. The maintenance of such a high level of universal achievement depends upon the ability of each student to mold himself into the single structure of our student body. This ability forms the foundation upon which we build, a foundation which must be strong; for a creation built upon sand will tumble at the first turbulence.

For the past four years I have witnessed Wilson's growth, and I am confident that the last six years have been only a prelude to future accomplishments.

MARGARET COPERNOLL
Vice President



Detailed plans for teacher appreciation day are discussed by fall executive board.

CABINET MAKES FALL PLANS

Fall president Tim Bracy gained the insight and training which aided him in carrying Wilson to even greater goals this year by attending the National Conference of Student Councils and, accompanied by the exec board, the Summer Workshop at the University of Oregon. At these meetings, the officers acquired new techniques of leadership and planning, which helped them during their successful term.

Among the activities which the Fall execs sponsored was a "Silence Day," put on in cooperation with Varsity Rally. They also held a dance to kick off the year, and organized the ethics committee, which helped draft the honor code.

CABINET MAKES CHANGES

Challenged to accept almost complete self control of the student body, the Spring Executive Board was faced with a grave responsibility. Led by Jere Webb, the eleven-member group did a great deal towards laying the foundation for strong government within the school.

Among the activities which the officers sponsored were open executive board meetings; they also reorganized the Inter-club Council, bringing the Wilson service groups together in an Inter-club Carnival. A library Book Return Day produced more than $2500 worth of lost material. The biggest project of the term was the preparation of a Wilson handbook, which the executive board published for next fall's incoming freshmen.

Reviewing business for representative assembly are Karen Larsen and Jere Webb.

TO THE STUDENT BODY:

Six years ago our doors opened and admitted the first students to Wilson. The time has come when we can no longer depend on the impetus given us by the mere fact that we are a newly organized body with all of the youthful ambition and spirit resultant from such a condition. Our organization must grow and expand if it is to survive. Now more than ever the student body must accept the responsibilities that such an organization requires and face the challenges of the future with the determination and unity of an organized body, for it is during this period that the shadow of failure falls most easily on the best directed efforts of a student government.

Senior cabinet plans the senior banquet, one of many activities of the class.

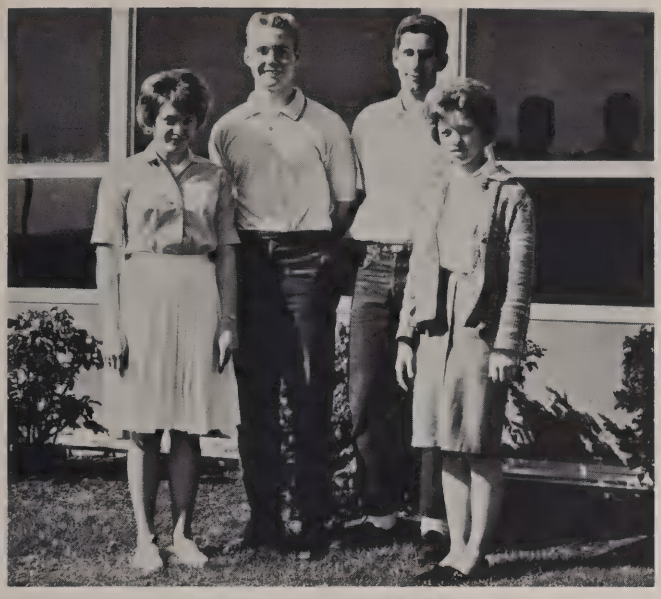
CABINET PLANS FUN

Senior class officers Kent Whitaker, Gary Lawrence, Judy McNeil, and Corrine Berg, after many hours of preparation in the summer, initiated the senior class into a successful year of activities with the sale of school calendars. Other fund raising projects for the year included the senior class dance "Millinery Mix," and the Homecoming formal "White Christmas," which provided both fun and profit.

The end of the school year brought a myriad of senior activities. The Mother-Daughter Tea, the senior banquet, picnic, and baccalaureate kept the class busy until graduation, which climaxed four fun-filled and profitable years at Wilson.

UNDERCLASSMEN ACTIVE

Completion of another year sees more accomplishments of the underclassmen; the special dances, talent shows, and services that are associated with freshmen, sophomores, and juniors. These activities are milestones in the progress of the student toward his final year of high school, remembered as definite parts of his education.



Freshman class cabinet: Chris Eggen, Doug Hansen, Bernie Druck, and Janet Gundle.

This year's freshman class is especially noted for its outstanding talent assembly, "Frosharama." Under the guidance of their counselors, Miss Hannah Larse and Mr. Arlen Wells, these first-year students have gotten off to a successful start in their high school career, and have demonstrated their ability to contribute actively in their remaining three years at Wilson.

Sophomore class cabinet members: Robert Thompson, Mickey Wright, Judy Parsons, and Jan Franklin.

Traditional with every sophomore class is the welcoming the frosh at the annual "Freshie Frolic." Other projects they sponsored included the Sweetheart Ball and putting on "Dress Rehearsal," the class talent how. The sophomores also demonstrated their enthusiasm by selling tickets to the school play "The Bat."

Junior class cabinet members: Paul Puziss, Alice Torgerson, Nancy Hendricks and Gail Zimmerman.

The main activity of every junior class is putting on the prom, which honors the departing seniors. The Homecoming formal feted this class, as its court was made up exclusively of junior girls. The class of 1963 has accomplished much to be proud of, and looks forward to continuing its active participation in its final year.

Representative assembly members take notes in order to report effectively back to their respective classes.

STUDENTS GOVERN SCHOOL

The largest group of self-administrators at Wilson is the representative assembly, which controls all school activities and policies. Among its main achievements this year was the formation of the ethics committee, which worked to create a code of conduct for the school.

Two important committees are under the auspices of the rep assembly. The judiciary committee could ultimately be one of the most powerful organizations in student government, as its duty is the interpretation of the constitution. Under the jurisdiction of the election committee is the job of nominating and screening candidates for varsity rally squad and student body offices.

Jere Webb guides the Rep Assembly in policy-making.

SCHOLARS RECOGNIZED

National Honor Society, the Phi Beta Kappa of secondary education, proves every year that its members were chosen wisely. The students chosen for membership in this honorary are picked for their merits in scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Each year the seniors in N.H.S. find that colleges consider those same qualifications for accepting their future students.

The honorary's major activity consisted of the installation banquet at which the new members were given their pins and N.H.S. cards.

Senior members Steve Summerset, Karen Kruchek, and Sally Stangell go over details for N.H.S. banquet.

HONORARIES PICK BEST

In its first year of activity, Forensians served Wilson by recognizing outstanding speakers at the annual Speakers' Banquet. The criterion for membership in this honorary is successful interscholastic competition. Membership in Sci-Ex, Wilson's science honorary, also is determined by competitive success. The outstanding activity of this group is the annual Science Fair, from which its membership is selected. Art students successful in the local Scholastic Art Exhibit are honored by membership in Gold Key, a Wilson art honorary. Due to the scarcity of winners in citywide competition, Gold Key affiliation club is valued by prospective artists.

ACHIEVEMENTS HONORED

Wilson mathematicians are given extracurricular incentive through their participation in Mu Alpha Theta, a national math honorary sponsored by the Mathematical Association of America. This group has held monthly meetings with presentation of topical interest by members.

Another noted honorary is Quill and Scroll, which recognizes outstanding ability and contribution in the journalism field. Pledges are selected annually from the Statesman and Troyan staffs.

WILSONITES:

Upon my departure for Iran, I wish to express my deepest gratitude for the understanding you have given me of America, its people and customs. You made my year at Wilson more than compensate for the year's schooling I missed in my own country. Noting the friendship between the faculty and student body and among the students themselves, none of you can ever know how much it meant to me to be included in the friendship. I hope, in closing, that you learned something of Iran during my stay. I extend to you an invitation to visit my country and a wish that I might return to Wilson some day, for truly, it is the "best in the land."

Under the guidance of Mr. Ray Conlon and Mrs. Louise Selberg, the International Relations Club spent a busy and profitable year. To acquaint students with a variety of political views, the club, led by Dave Labby, sponsored a series of speakers holding a divergent opinion on today's world situation. A trip to the state I.R.L. Conference on Disarmament by eleven members of the group highlighted the club's activities. The delegation was well prepared for the two-day parley at the University of Oregon, as it had sponsored a preconference meeting for all I.R.L. clubs in the surrounding area in early February. Hi-Lighter members, under the leadership of Bob Bushnell, spent many hours of their time in carrying out their service to Wilson of co-ordinating the lighting and sound at all school activities that employ the auditorium. Guided by Dr. Lucille Hill, the club was busily occupied during all plays, assemblies, and noon movies.

Newly organized this year, the Wilson Amateur Rifle Society built up to a smoothly running interest club. KNIGHTS PROVE USEFUL

Perhaps one of the busiest clubs at Wilson is the Knights of Troy. Working throughout the year they operate and maintain all the audio equipment with the exception of the stage machinery. Without this worthwhile organization there would be no microphones broadcasting information on events such as football, baseball, and track, held on the field. In the gym and cafeteria all activities are served by the Knights. Running the projectors, this club enables many students to enjoy the noon movies.

All popular music at Wilson is recorded by members of the Knights. They make tape recordings of music with the help of KPOJ's Dick Novak and KISN's Tom Murphy.

One way to attend all school functions without straining the pocketbook is to be a member of Amicia. Friendly smiles characterize Amicia members, as they usher at all the plays, concerts, and programs of the school year, which is understandable since the name Amicia means friendship.

Amicia was active in areas of social obligation as its members aided the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, and the Panhellenic League. Also in social contacts they enjoyed bake sales, car washes, joints, and date meetings.

BOYS – ELEGANT WAITERS

Serving at banquets was not strictly reserved for girls' clubs as the Gladiators could testify. Men, they assert, make excellent waiters. Most Wilsonites would readily agree. The boys also continued their joint service of patrolling the cafeteria with the Talons.

They applied themselves just as enthusiastically to the social whirl associated with any club's operation. Joints and parties, money-making enterprises, and service projects all had a place in the year's activities.

The members of Troya did a great deal this year to promote school enthusiasm. Dressed in traditional green and white, the girls were given a special section in the Wilson stands and formed an impressive picture of school patriotism. Under the guidance of President Sue Chorlton and advisor Miss Mary E. Kingsbury and with the help of one-hundred twenty new members, the spirited pep squad took time from rooting to organize a Wilson pin sale, the Cotton and Cord Twirp Dance, and the Spring Sports Banquet.

Enthusiastic Troya members decorate for annual Cotton and Cord dance.

Lingvisto members puzzle over journalistic style in foreign languages as they produce their paper.

LANGUAGE INNOVATES CLUB

Lingvisto's first year at Wilson was a successful one. The foreign language club, with departments in French, German, Spanish, and Russian, celebrated Christmas with a multi-lingual party, complete with French hors d'oeuvres, German Chocolate cake, and Spanish pinatas. In January the club held an interest meeting at which Rick Kullberg, Wilson AFS student to Germany, spoke. Later in the spring a joint meeting was held in the Wilson cafeteria with all foreign language students and exchange students in the city participating. Separate activities were also carried on by the various departments, with the German club dining at Alpenhansln's, a Bavarian restaurant.

TROY HONOR FOR ATHLETES

The Men of Troy were the athletes of Wilson, the award winners from the football field, the basketball and tennis courts, the baseball diamond, the cinder track, and the swimming pool. Commendably, the club decided to accept the responsibility of a service to the school. They aided Mr. Craig with disciplinary problems.

The female counterpart of the lettermen's club, Women of Troy, gained distinction as its members broke records and brought home trophies in their respective areas of specialization.

INTRAMURALS EXCEL

Under the direction of Fall and Spring Athletic Commissioners Karl Wustrack and Gary Newell, the Wilson intramural program progressed and flourished. Covering such sports as bowling, ping pong, boys' and girls' basketball, gymnastics, and badminton, the program received enthusiastic support of the entire student body, with bowling being most well attended. Participation on their own time, students were given chance to improve themselves and compete with others through the intramural program. This system helped to make it the enjoyable and educational activity that it was.

Coming down into stomach flip, Sue Whitely takes advantage of intramural program.

FANTASY TAKES FLIGHT

The delighted cries of young theater-goers and the rush of autograph seekers after the final curtain signified the success of the Drama Department's presentation of Peter Pan.

The enthusiasm of the youngsters was contagious, and as the play progressed to the scene in which the audience is asked to clap their hands if they "believe" so that Tinkerbell can live, the elders joined in with sympathy.

Thea Bernstein portrayed the role of the boy from "Never-Never Land" to perfection and Sue Cohen gave a commendable performance as Wendy. The supporting cast were also creditable as boys, Indians, mermaids, and pirates.

Thea Bernstein flys on Wilson stage.

Under the harsh tongue of Dan Brindell, Pat Pearson stands quietly listening.

DRAMA ENTHRALLS CROWD

Proving to be successful in the tradition set up by preceding plays, "Ramshackle Inn" was noted for its superlative acting and fine direction. An outstanding job in the lead role, played by Joan Brockhaus, marked the high note of the drama.

Throughout the murder mystery comedy, the audience was kept enraptured and entertained by a series of slaying and a sequence of cleverly written lines. The excellent set designs, constructed by Dr. Lucille Hill's drama class, aided in lending atmosphere to the play.

Jim Quarles, Thea Bernstein, and Joan Brockhaus look on in horror as Pat Johnson bends over slain body of Dan Brindell.

FORENSION TONGUES WAG

Glib tongues and sharp minds find their places in the speech classes, as students strive to polish an art practiced since childhood. The beginning speech student learns the importance of coordinating words with gestures and facial expressions, a practice which will serve him well throughout life.

Students are given opportunities to practice their new-found knowledge in interscholastic speech contests, which include events ranging from debate to poetry. Consistent winners advance to district, then state competition. A speech student's goal is to be selected for Forensians, Wilson's speech honorary.

OLIVIA NEAR—3RD PLACE WINNER IN NORTHWEST DRAMA CONFERENCE

THESPIANS HONOR DRAMA

Thespians are the bards of the drama world at Wilson. Their lines revolve around the stage; the footlights, the greasepaint, the rehearsals, and the opening night jitters. Many individuals learn to perform as a talented unit and by the acquisition of that knowledge, become eligible for the drama honorary, the Thespians. Dr. Lucille Hill, the Thespians advisor, has a great respect and affection for her students who are so honored.

TROJAN TRIX DRAWS FULL HOUSE

Trojan Trix is over. The weeks of feverish preparation have reached their climax. The problems which seemed insurmountable during rehearsals resolved themselves in the performances.
Intricate sets and fantastic costumes completed the mood as each act expanded a new "frontier". Moving from the Mississippi to outer space, the "Silver Spurs" theme was carried out in varied and ingenious ways.

Taking their bows after folk dance are Steve Kerr and Karen Oberg.

The Show Band, which supported many of the musical numbers, here accompanies the boys' quartet.

Choreography Seminar performs western dance for Trojan Trix.

Jim Quarles gives his tale of the Old West.

Tennessee Waltzers Jack Pattee and Ann Waterman bring Old South into the "Silver Spurs".

CHOIR GIVES EXCELLENCE

Well trained voices combined with long hours of practice made the outstanding performances of the Senior Choir well worth remembering during the year. The group participated in the Fall and Spring Concerts and at the Christmas program, and were especially noted for their workmanship on the radio broadcast from the Multnomah Hotel during the holiday season.

The P.T.A. and the Dads' club also appreciated the Choir's talents, and the group joined with the other high schools in the Portland area in March in the All-City Choir Festival.

Strains of "I Love Paris" are sung by waitress Jan Bramwell and Walter Scott McLagen.

Enchanted with solo in spring concert are Carolyn Bowser and Becky Stenfors.

Norm Shearer and Alicia Miller are "caught up" in music of sell-out spring concert.

MUSICIANS HARMONIZE

Odd shaped cases that contain violins, tubas, saxophones, and countless other instruments are carried into music practice rooms where hour long rehearsals improve musical ability.

For students with an appreciation of fine arts and a substantial musical background, Wilson's orchestra and band offer a stimulating experience that is not soon forgotten by graduates. Under the direction of Mr. C. Robert White, these instrumental groups enjoy the satisfaction of performing before audiences while adding highlights to many school musical productions.

TROJANES PERFORM WELL

When students experience a struggle for perfection, when students are part of a movement demanding sacrifice of leisure time, and when students have shared defeat and all its tragedies, they have an advantage on traveling the road of maturity. The Trojanes, no matter where they scatter will always be richer in mind than many of their peers because they have been part of this dancing group experience.

In the spring of the sophomore year the list of the next year's Trojanes is posted. From that moment of announcement their struggle begins as over the summer they practice "kicks," choose materials, and design and make costumes.

Julie Potts, Judy Walter, and Alicia Miller perform intricate Trojane routine.

HOMECOMING QUEEN DIANE DAVIES

HOMECOMING HI-LIGHTS

The climax of the Homecoming activities is the revealing of the queen for the year. This year, after nine junior girls were announced finalists, Diane Davies proceeded to win the crown. All received gifts and the cheers of the student body, making the occasion memorable, for, though high school highlights last for moments, they are remembered for years.

SWEETHEARTS REIGN

Commemorating the annual Valentine's Day are the "Sweetheart" festivities. The perfect ending to the suspense of the sophomore court was the formal Sweetheart Ball, reigned over by Linda Ostomel. Relieving the doldrums of February weather, the court and the dance are long awaited through the winter months.

MAY QUEEN HIGHLY HONORED

The May Queen holds the second highest place of honor in the festivities of Rose Festival events. She reigns over the May activities of awarding outstanding people the "Royal Order of 'W' ", and rules the May Fete Assembly and dance. The May Queen holds a position of esteem in the eyes of her subjects. Upon becoming runner-up for Rose Festival princess, the May Queen has won something very great for herself; she has won the entire respect of the student body, the distinction of being one of the two most gracious, lovely, beautiful of senior girls—she is their queen.

ROSE FESTIVAL—1962

There are two worlds of success; real success and dreamed-of success, both equally wonderful. Spring in the Northwest brings the annual return of the Rose Festival and with it these two worlds of success. Two-hundred eighteen girls vicariously experience the Rose Festival crowning as they cheer on the one girl who experiences Rose Festival royalty in real life.

Amid the flurry of cotton dresses and nervous hands, the judges narrow down the numbers to the chosen few; from two-hundred eighteen to forty, from twenty to eight, from two to one . . . one girl who will reign supreme in the minds of the student body. In these suspense-filled moments the senior girls appear in all their grace, charm, and poise. For them this moment is the peak in four years of achieving maturity.

NEILSON WINS ANOTHER FIRST FOR TROY

As the recipient of the Elks Leadership Award, Barbara Neilson was honored for her outstanding leadership ability. Barbara's reputation for school service began during her freshman days, when she served as frosh class Vice-President.

Barbara participated in the sophomore class talent show, and this year distinguished herself as a member of National Honor Society, secretary of Pheta, and treasurer of the International Relations League.

Barbara devotes her leisure time to snow and water skiing. She lists English and speech as her favorite classes, and hopes to further develop her interests as an education major in college.

Barbara Neilson, first Wilsonite to win Elks Club leadership award, views honor.

SENIORS

PEP AND HARD WORK – KEYS TO SUCCESS

Margaret Copernoll has been a genuine example of what ability, enthusiasm, and hard work can accomplish. As a representative of the pep club her freshman year, and later as a member of the Fall Junior Varsity Rally Squad, she served her class well. (Her class utilized her drive.) Scholastic ability was shown by her admission into National Honor Society and Forensians. She has been Junior Class Vice President, Fall Student Body Vice President, Secretary of I.R.L., and Pheta secretary and treasurer. Because of her reliability and excellent service Margaret was named as outstanding senior girl by the Daughters of the American Revolution, a tribute to a top student and a fine individual.

Senior talent assembly offers Tim Bracy chance to display his ballet arts.

S. B. PRESIDENT USES FITNESS AND WIT

One of the highest honors students can bestow on a fellow classmate is that of class or student body president. As a freshman, Tim Bracy led his class well, and during his senior year he gained the respect of the entire school as he served Wilson during the Fall term. Distinguishing himself again in athletics, Tim earned varsity letters in both track and basketball. He also pursued his interest in this area by bicycle racing, for which he gained second place honors in a road race at Nevada City, California.

Tim's future holds hope of study at Portland State College in the fall, which is to be followed by a law career, in keeping with his interest in the field of speech.

Jan Oetinger relates tales of Santiago, Chile to Maren Greeley.

HIGH CHARACTER EARNS SUMMER IN CHILE

A reputation for reliability, outstanding academic achievement, and high character earned Jan Oetinger the privilege of spending the summer of 1961 in Santiago, Chile, as an American Field Service exchange student. After her three months in South America, Jan returned to Wilson to continue her exceptional record by mainaining a 3.84 G.P.A.

Active in school activities, Jan served as Vice President of Pheta, Lingvisto, and Forensians, and was a member of I.R.L., National Honor Society, and the American Culture Seminar and the Italian Seminar. She has participated in numerous speech meets, served on the KBPS Board, and was a Student Government representative. The honor student plans to pursue her interests in Social Studies and English, after which she will enter the teaching field.

MUSIC, BOOKS, FUN IS ROSENTHAL CAREER

Andy Rosenthal's service record at Wilson includes positions as junior class president, Junior Red Cross Council representative, Gladiator vice-president and treasurer, and as a member of representative assembly. These, along with his excellent grades, gained him membership in National Honor Society, Mu Alpha Theta, and Tri-M.

As an athlete, Andy participated on both the football and track teams. His versatility extends to the musical field, where he demonstrated his remarkable ability with the senior choir, the ensemble, or doing solo work. Whether working on projects of student government or performing in front of enthusiastic audiences, Andy Rosenthal has proven he is one of Wilson's most versatile students.

Li'l Abner for 1961-1962, Andy Rosenthal had to win his Sadie Hawkins crown by above gunny sack race.

WONG GIVES WELL-ROUNDED SERVICE

Best known for her warm personality and friendly smile, Ellie Wong has been well received at Wilson since her transfer from Cleveland. Here, she has built up a formidable record of service and participation, as Fall Student Body Secretary, Omechi vice-president, and National Honor Society member.

Ellie's main scholastic interest lies in the art field, and she has followed this up by serving on the art publicity staff and on the 1962 Troyan layout staff. In her leisure time, she enjoys caligraphy, sewing, and swimming. Her future plans include attending University of Oregon, where she hopes to graduate with a degree in liberal arts.

Ellie Wong dances with Ed Tamiyasu of Portland State at after game dance.

Attending after game dance with Karl Wustrack, Stephie 'Lee bubbles over with pep due to another Wilson football win.

SCHOLAR-ATHLETE FORMS DYNAMIC RECORD

Outstanding as one of Wilson's scholar-athletes, Karl Wustrack managed to maintain excellent grades while he starred at basketball, cross-country, and track. During his junior year, Karl aided Wilson runners in capturing the city cross-country title and 4th place in state competition; in the spring, he was a member of the first basketball team Wilson has sent to the State Tournament, and his scoring helped to snare 6th place. In addition to his fine record in sports, Karl has been outstanding in student government, serving as Sophomore class president and Fall Student Body Athletic Commissioner. He was also a member of Men of Troy, Mu Alpha Theta, and the National Honor Society. In keeping with his scholastic achievements, Karl's plans include a college degree in medicine.

MOREY—TRIBUTE WILSON

Diana Morey served her class and school well, beginning her active career as freshman class treasurer. During her sophomore year, her spirit and personality made her a valuable member of the J.V. Rally Squad; as a junior she represented her class in the pep club. She again donned the green and white her senior year on Fall Varsity Rally, and managed to spend a busy year as National Honor Society Secretary, Chi Chi Tau President, Pheta Spring President, Charles F. Berg fashion representative, a member of Mu Alpha Theta, the Troyan Staff, representative assembly, and Senior Choir. Diana has maintained a 3.98 G.P.A., making her one of Wilson's most versatile, friendly, and willing students.

BRECKON IS MATH DEPARTMENT'S PRIDE

Garry Breckon has contributed to a wide range of activities, notably academic, during his Wilson career. Consistent with his interest and vocational plans in the field of mathematics education, he is presently teaching a math class at the Oregon Museum of Science and Industry and is looking forward to making it his major at University of Chicago next fall. Ranked tenth in his class, Garry's 3.8 grade average indicates his intellectual capacity, also demonstrated by his Finalist standing in National Merit competition. Participation in two seminars and the American Culture seminar keeps Garry occupied, but not too busy to belong to the amateur radio club and National Honor Society and preside over Mu Alpha Theta.

WEBB GIVES OUTSTANDING LEADERSHIP

Spring Student Body President Jere Webb distinguished himself at Wilson with his outstanding leadership ability. In addition to heading the school, Jere served as president of National Honor Society and the Amateur Radio Club. He was also an active member of Gladiators, representative assembly, and Men of Troy. In the sports field, Jere was a prominent baseball player his junior and senior years. Scholastically, he was a participant in the "honors" program, and he carried a 3.8 GPA throughout high school. An outstanding student, Jere enjoyed all hi classes, but preferred the economics seminar. His future plans include a college degree in law.

After school hours give Jere Webb and Sherry Linden chance to study.

After six months in Germany, Rick Kullberg brushes up on his trombone.

WILSON MUSICIAN A.F.S. CHOICE

Outstanding as both a diplomat and a student, Rick Kullberg spent four months in Bochum, Germany, representing Wilson as an American Field Service exchange student. A credit to his school in many fields, he also improved his math ability by attending the National Science Foundation Math Institute at Portland State College last summer.

Rick's ability as a musician has added to his reputation as one of Wilson's foremost all-around students. As a member of the band, orchestra, and pep band, his talent on the trombone earned his membership in Tri-M. Naturally, Rick considers math and music his favorite classes, and he hopes to pursue his interests in the science field by attaining a degree in psychiatry at the University of Oregon Honors College.

Student body monetary matters were well managed by Mary Bauer, putting money in the safe and Mrs. Edna Robertson, in background.

DOLLARS HANDLED BY MARY BAUER

Entrusted with the confidence of her school, Fall Student Body Treasurer Mary Bauer devoted many hours of service in the student store. During her junior year, Mary also gained a great deal of financial proficiency as treasurer of her class and Amicia.

As an active member of Tyata Tri-Hi-Y and the Powder Puff Football team, Mary demonstrated her abundant enthusiasm and school spirit. This honor roll student's major academic interest is economics. Outside school hours she enjoys skiing and swimming.

Mary's academic achievements, which have earned her membership in National Honor Society, will provide valuable recommendations to the liberal arts college she will attend, as she prepares for a career in the foreign service.

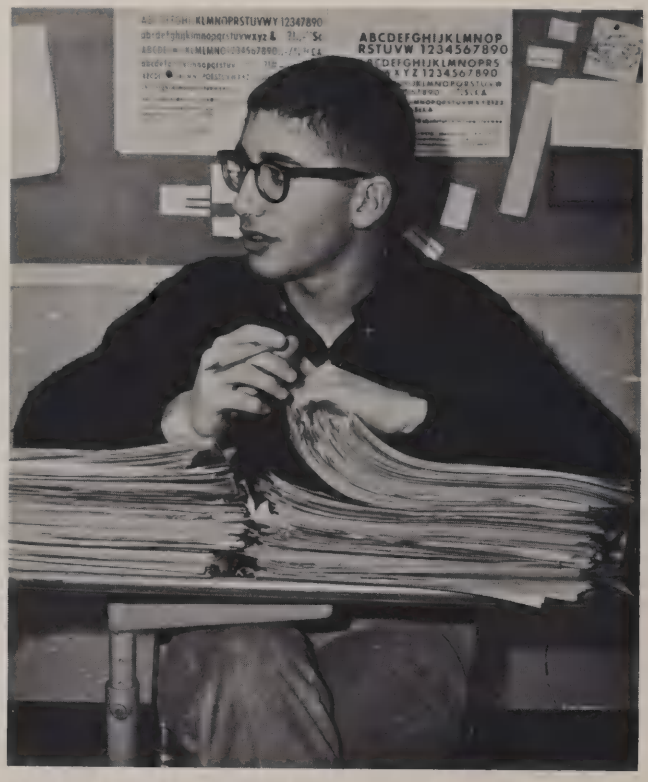
JOURNALIST LABBY ADVANCES STATESMAN

David Labby, an individual who possesses the rare talent for newspaper writing, has used his ability as a member of the Statesman staff to help make it the success that it is.

In addition to his performance on the newspaper, Dave has gained recognition for prominence in other areas. He spent his junior year in France with his family. He acquired a proficiency in the French language seldom matched by high school students. There, Dave also discovered a talent for the classical guitar, which he developed through jam and jazz sessions, his hobbies. Outstanding scholastically, Dave is a member of National Honor Society, and he hopes to further himself academically by attending Reed College this fall.



David Labby leafs through old Statesmans for ways to improve present paper.

POWDER PUFF CHAMPS ARE SENIORS

Powder Puff Football games will one day be gala memories to all. For the 1961-62 school year seniors tromped over the juniors with a 19-7 victory. Even Shou Shou Chakoutahi from Iran was charging down the muddy field with gusto.

At halftime the Trojohns tried to pass for females but were betrayed by their legs. In the third quarter, Ray Rangila picked up his closest claim to royalty by being elected king of the Powder Puff court. Powder Puff football games are long anticipated because everyone is bent on having crazy, wild fun.

Joanne McDougal and Carol Furry rush ahead to open shower room so that John Roberts and friends may toss in winning Coach Webster.

WILLING DRIVE BRINGS HONORS

As all-city football defensive halfback, Dick Armentrout brought honor not only to himself, but also to his school, a feat which he has often performed in the past. Dick's only talent is not athletics however, although he is a fine skier. During his junior year, he was recognized for outstanding knowledge in the science field, and his first place in the Northwest Science Exposition earned him membership in Sci-Ex.

Serving his class well, Dick gave many hours of his time on the Prom and Sadie Hawkins Decorating Committees, as a representative assembly member and as a participant in the senior class talent show. His future holds the hopes of a medical career, and he expects to enroll at Oregon State University next autumn.

SPORTS

Rainy game has diverse effects on Ron Evans, Cherie Viggers, and Diana Morey as shown by their mixed emotions.

Exuberance of Joanie Walton, demonstrated here, was a force behind the fall rally.

PEP ARTISTS SPUNKY

Clad in traditional Wilson colors, the Fall Varsity Rally made its debut on tricycles, bicycles, and skooters at the season opener with Lincoln. Along with their mascots, Diana Morey's cousin Eddie Davidson and Patti Utter's dog Pepe, the squad began their term with originality and enthusiasm that helped to make the Wilson team successful.

Attempting to promote better relationships with other schools, the Varsity Rally held breakfasts with Lincoln and Grant, a luncheon with Washington, and a dinner with Jefferson. They also helped to improve Wilson's school spirit with a night rally in the gymnasium, after which they sponsored the annual rally dance, aptly titled the "Torchlight Tromp."

Kathy Duzan and Patty Utter issue cries of "Yea! Team" with hand motions to match.

TROJANS CAPTURE THIRD PLACE

Wilson's varsity gridders marched full force into a strong third place finish in 1961 Portland Interscholastic League competition. The Trojans started their long season drive for victory as they downed Lincoln, Marshall and Cleveland by the resounding scores of 14-7, 26-0, and 53-0, respectfully. Our varsity squad then fell victim to an 18-19 defeat at the hands of the Grant Generals. The team came back at their next encounter, unleashing a scoring barrage of 40 points against a baffled and scoreless Washington. Capitalizing on Wilson's errors, the Jefferson Demos followed with a one touchdown victory over the Trojans. In the last two games of the season, Madison and Roosevelt were added to the growing list of impressive Trojan victories. Our gridders finished with the highest win-loss record (6-2) in Trojan history.

Several Trojans have been indispensable in Coach Voll's battle plans. Ray Rangila proved this season that a winning aerial game can be combined with a fast ground game. The PIL is well aware of "The Arm's" passing potential and if they needed proof, his 27-22 pass completion record in the Grant game left no doubt in their minds. Ray, the team's "Most Valuable Player," also made "All-City" and was chosen "Player of the Week for Oregon" by the Associated Press. Jeff Johnson, the hustling end most often found on the receiving end of Rangila's passes and member of the "All-City Team," deserves recognition as an essential factor in Wilson's success on the field. Dave Gammon, halfback, captured a top spot in the top ten scoring column by gaining 584 yards for an average of 8.6 per carry.

Steve Mikulic carries ball down field.

FROSH SHOULDER SEASON

Our hard fighting, determined frosh football team opened their season competition with an equally determined Marshall. The resulting tie score was indicative of games to come. The following games proved to be tremendous efforts that resulted in only commensurable rewards. The frosh team, as witnessed by their respectable second place finish, demonstrated league-leading ability.

Wilson's frosh, led on by halfbacks Dan VonAllmen and Bruce Beeman, ended their efforts with a 5 win, 1 loss and 1 tie record. This accomplishment moved the Troybabes to a second place spot in city competition. Madison, our last opponent of the season, proved to be the arrow in Achilles' heel. Their ruinous 7 to 6 victory, netted the Senators the city title at Wilson's expense.

Muddy field and determined opponents fail to slow Bruce Beeman's progress.

BOYS SWIM TEAM TO STATE BERTH

King Neptune never had such henchmen. The varsity boys' swimming team displayed championship form, both individually and collectively, as they racked up victory after victory in interscholastic competition. Lane markers bobbed in the wake of Wilson's team as they scuttled the best that Portland and the state had to offer.

The fantastic record achieved by Kenny Webb, most valuable swimmer for two years, made a winning combination with the spirit, talent, and enthusiasm of Graham Colton, the team's co-captains John Harrow and Steve Grace. The confidence they instilled motivated a team effort which brought home two trophies: first place in the city and second in the state.

John Harrow's winning backstroke nearly broke a state record and took first in state competition.

GIRLS WIN STATE TITLE

Gaining a city victory over Grant, tension mounted as the girls' swim team met Beaverton in the state contest and triumphed with a close 46-44 victory. In their drive to bring the trophies home, the state champions, coached by Miss Judy Eggen, smashed several city and state records.

Most valuable swimmer, Kathy Steinbach, with the aid of Liz Mankin, Barbara Dodge, and Chris Eggen, established a city record in the 200-yard medley. During the state meet, Kathy again displayed her talents, breaking the state 100-yard butterfly record.

Leading the mermaids throughout their successful season was team captain Sharon Smith and manager Lynne Searcy.

WILSON RETAINS VARSITY CROSS-COUNTRY CHAMPIONSHIP

Wilson's Varsity Cross-Country team retained the city championship and improved their position from fourth to third place in state competition over last year's record. The harriers enhanced their state and city showings by three first place wins and one second place position in the previous league meets.

Our harriers have developed a winning combination in Gary Newell and Karl Wustrack. Gary, our "Most Valuable Runner", placed first in the city meet and third out of hundreds in the state meet. Throughout the season he was closely followed or shortly preceded by Karl Wustrack who placed second and seventh in city and state meets, respectively.

Wilson's cross-country future is by no means dark due to the graduation of seniors Gary Newell and Karl Wustrack. For the speed and determination of sophomores Steve Hetzler, Len Anderson, and junior Bruce Fitzwater are representative of the bright future for cross-country at Wilson.

THINCLADS SUCCESSFUL

Wilson's enthusiastic J.V. and Freshman cross-country teams completed a remarkable season, finishing first and third, respectively, in the city meet. Our Troyvees garnered a perfect winning record in their dual meets and the city meet. Faced with several determined opponents, the frosh team placed second and third in two dual meets and established a third place notch in city standings.

Mike Walters monopolized the first place berth in every meet and deserves commendation as the spirit behind the J.V.'s perfect record this year. Close on Walters' heels were harriers Keith Axelson, Bill Rushby and Steve Johnson who supplied the necessary tallies for Wilson's victory. Craig Bayless, assisted by Mike Mills and Russ Baker, carried the frosh through a difficult season to an enviable record.

J.V. RALLY SERVES ALL YEAR

As the first junior varsity rally to serve for a full year, the seven girls on the 1961-1962 squad managed to spend a busy year serving their class and school. All sophomores, they donned short white pleated skirts, green bulky knit sweaters, long green socks, and white tennies as they encouraged the Troyvee football team on to the city championship and the junior varsity basketball team to third-place honors. Among the projects sponsored by the J.V. group was a dance, held in conjunction with the varsity squad, and a dinner which they gave in honor of the Spring Varsity Rally.

Pep assembly activities are discussed by J.V. Rally.

RALLY YELLS IN SPRING

Informed of their positions as Spring Varsity Rally by a kidnap dinner staged by the Fall Varsity Squad, the six girl-three boy group kicked off their season in January. Serving for twenty-two games, the squad was instrumental in keeping up school and team spirit during a predominantly losing season.
The outfits donned by the girls were white wool pleated skirts, which could be topped by either matching wool tops or two-tone green and white sweaters. The boys dressed similarly in white pants, worn with either green wool blazers or two-tone green and white sweaters that matched those of the girls.

VARSITY HAS ROUGH SEASON

Coach Ole Johnson's 1962 hoop squad, playing with three outstanding returning lettermen, seemed well on the way to a repeat state tourney berth, a third of the way through the season, with a five-two record. But a loss to Cleveland in which Troy produced its best effort, coupled with injuries to two front line men, affected the playing ability which did not assume early season form until the final week. Wilson terminated its usual season with two pouncings over Madison and Roosevelt, teams which gained victories in the first-round encounters, which placed the cagers in seventh position holding a nine-eleven record.

Wilson's attack was led by seven lettermen including Jeff Johnson, Richie Voss, and all-city Karl Wustrack, who were unable to repeat the previous tourney berth at Eugene. Wustrack led the P.I.L. with a 19.1 points per game average, and in so doing, set a new school scoring record of 343 points, fused with Voss's accurate shooting and board work and Johnson's fine back-court play. The Trojans fielded a better game than records indicate.

The final game in which Troy rode the Roughriders out of the gym with the total of 86 tallies presented a show which redeemed some forgettable mid-season moments.

Jeff Johnson demonstrates ability in a crowded situation.

J.V. SETS NEW RECORD . .

Getting off to a slow start, the junior varsity team showed its fine ability as the season progressed by setting a new P.I.L. scoring record of 63 points per game. Under the coaching of Mr. Gerald Dadey, formerly varsity coach at Jesuit High School, the Troyvees attained third place honors for the season.

With patience and practice, the jayvees managed to make a fine showing in their 1962 games, led by first-string players Jim Schultz, Eric Newhall, Mike Smith, Brad Jonasson, and Bill Small. The team's true potential may be realized in the coming years, as the high scoring varsity prospects take over Wilson's senior team.

TROYBABES PROMISING

Under the direction of Gene Werkheiser, the freshman hoop squad finished the season with an impressive 7-3 record. This was accomplished with a balanced offensive and defensive effort which improved with each game, terminating the season with a 62-38 romp over the Roughriders. Pete Wiser and Lee Todd led the Troybabe attack in rebounding and compiled the leading points-per-game averages with 10.6 and 12.8 respectively. With playmaker and Most Valuable Player Bernie Druck following up with a consistent ten points a contest, the freshmen present fine prospects for varsity victories in coming years. The team's only setbacks came at the hands of Wilson's perpetual foe, Grant, and the strong rooks from Jefferson and Cleveland.

Hoping to realize their full potential and overcome their few flaws in the future, the Troybabe hoop squad has an impressive record and the personnel to take Troy to the state tournament in the future.

Freshman stalwart Bernie Druck demonstrates well-known skill to Quaker opponents.

GRAPPLERS COMPETE

The increased success of Wilson's wrestling team during the past year indicates its growing strength and potential. This season three lettermen returned to start the team, while coach Gray expects twelve to come back next year.

Much of the team's success is due to the outstanding performances of Duffey Brown and Steve Summersett, Troy's only two participants in the state meet. Duffey was declared the outstanding wrestler in city competition and received second ranking in state. Steve, while occupying second position in city competition, remained undefeated in the city's dual wrestling matches. Jim Brockman, one of the returning lettermen, received fourth-place recognition in the city. Jeff Coefield, Duffey's co-captain, has also been a valuable wrestler on the team.

Outstanding performances were made in nearly every Wilson event, but in the Franklin meet they excelled. Mr. Gray and his returning lettermen are confident that the team will achieve continued success in seasons to come.

VARSITY – LIKELY CHAMPS

Wilson's varsity baseball team now leads the league, turning in a promising eight win-two loss record at this writing. The Trojans handed out uncompromising defeats to Madison, Washington, Roosevelt, Benson, Jefferson, Grant, Cleveland, and Lincoln, while accepting their first defeats from the powerful teams of Marshall and Franklin.

Thus far in the season Wilson's hopes are very high for a city championship due to the impressive, all-senior starting line-up, the only one in the city, and the combination of good hitting and defense capacity. Pitching material is Wilson's real problem and the Trojans place most of their hope on Richie Voss, their only varsity experienced pitcher. The optimistic prospects for the season, however, depend upon the team's well-rounded talent.

JV'S SPORT PERFECT WIN RECORD

JV baseball, as it is coached at Wilson by Mr. Jack Barker, has experienced a perfect win record at this writing. The squad won both pre-season games and proceeded to tromp Roosevelt, their first season opponent, by the resounding score of 11-0. The second and last game to this date was a close 5-4 victory over Benson.

This record demonstrated a strong team effort supported by the combination of good offense and all-over team ability. At this time it would seem premature to laud any particular individuals for their contributions to the team.

Likewise it is a risky matter to forecast the squad's future in the season's play; however, the most conservative authorities strongly consider Wilson's JV team as one of the primary contenders for the city title.

SPIKERS STIR UP CINDER

Wilson's varsity cinder team, composed equally of juniors and seniors, showed mid-season promise of competitive success. Having won two early dual meets against Benson and Washington, the spikers took fourth in City Relays. A sparkling performance by the Troy distance medley team, placing second behind a record-breaking Grant foursome, paced the thinclads in city competition. Seniors, notably half-miler Karl Wustrack and miler Gary Newell, predominated in distance events; sprints were run by such talented juniors as Wayne Rifer and Larry Johnson. Record-breaking performances were abundant; by mid-season, Rifer had run a notable 10.0 hundred yard dash and junior Eric Newhall high jumped 5′ 9″.

Larry Johnson hands baton off to Steve Kerr in 880 relay.

To a real terrific math student from a terrible speller. Hope I can see you in some of the summer meets this year. Real good luck and keep up on the math.

TROYVEES CLAIM VICTORIES

Troyvee track men, emulating their varsity elders, gained victories over two different opponents before the City Relays. Following these successes, Mickey Wright and the mile relay quartet led the team to a hotly contested third place in City Class "B" Relays. Wright, a junior pole vaulter, soared ten feet to win his event; the mile four ran a creditable 3:51.6 to claim another Troy first place. Throughout the season the JV team was plagued by promotions of talented spikers to varsity standing. Distribution between events, however, was excellent on the novice squad; field events, sprints, and distance events all showed promising strength.

INDIVIDUALS SPARK TEAM TALENT

In years past the eyes of Wilson students have turned to the freshman track team for some indication of Wilson's track future. This year proves to be no exception. However, at this writing that future can be seen at best as only a blurred image upon the horizon. One knows that the frosh cindermen have an unbeaten record in their dual meets, downing Benson and Washington. However, their showing in the city relays is not as reassuring, as they placed seventh in the competition.

Track is at times an individual effort, and the frosh team is not without its outstanding assets. George Buxmann established and broke his own record for the javelin, and Robert Davidson is the city pole vault champion. Wayne Bartnik shows promise in the shot put and sprints, and Lee Todd seems to have an impressive talent for the high jump. Considering these factors, Coach Gordon Makinster hopes for a good showing in city and dual meets.

Fighting for the last few inches of the 880 yard run are Daryl Baker, Chuck Irwin, and Steve Moylett.

Russ Baxter is seen in mid-air of the broad jump.

John Porter sizes up his shot before putting.

TURFMEN SPORT GOOD RECORD

An unprecedented thirty-two man golf turnout has bolstered the sagging egos of the two lone golfers returning from last year's successful season. Thus far the Trojan divot makers sport a three win, two loss, one tie record. The most challenging obstacle to overcome is the match with Madison, and if the Trojan golfmen are victorious, there is a good chance that this team of untried but sure golfers will end up in second or third place in the city, a respectable finish for a squad of boys who have not previously competed for Wilson. Top Trojan turfmen should be returnees John Porter and Bill Nemeth, both of whom hae good chances of going to state to uphold Wilson honor.

GIRLS AIM AT STATE BERTH

Clubs "whooshing" through the air, turf flying and balls soaring to their destination hailed the start of the girls' golf season. Five returning golfers and some newcomers will attempt to better the past season's record, of second in city and first in state. An air of confidence surrounds the team but wet spring weather has been a deterrent for some of the scheduled matches. The girls must admit to a one loss record, but since play is barely underway an accurate forecast of the season is impossible. As always this year's team has hopes of having a very successful season.

FAVORABLE WINDS BLOW FOR TENNIS TEAM

Wilson's girls' tennis team has gained recognition as one of the top high school teams in the city. This success has been largely due to the fact that most team members are varsity players. There is, however, strength in every member of the team. Also, favorable weather has stimulated victory in nearly every event. The team's predominant rival, Grant, is to meet Wilson players in a few weeks, but our players are hopeful that Wilson will maintain its record of all wins throughout the entire season.

NETMEN EYE CHAMPIONSHIP

Trojan netmen for 1962 have an impressive preious year's record to equal, but all indications lead to the reasonable assumption that last year's record will be bettered. Aiding returning stalwarts Bill Nordgarden, Chip Harris, Jon Salquist, and Eric Newhall are Jim Barnes and Charles Aloo, a past National champion. Trojan prowess on the court has already been demonstrated by two meet wins, and expectations are high that the rest of the season will be completed in a like manner. Our team seems to be strong in all aspects of competition and capturing this year's city championship is a real possibility.

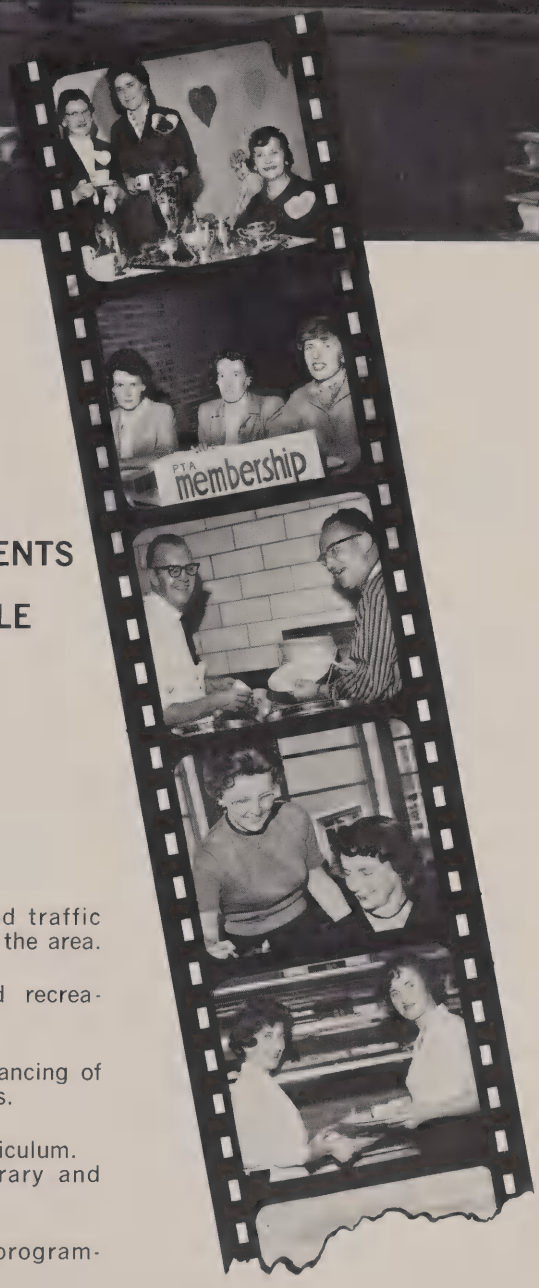
We're in there with you...



YES, STUDENTS, YOUR P.T.A. IS A PART OF YOUR SCHOOL, WORKING WITH THE WILSON STUDENTS AND FACULTY TO GIVE ALL OF YOU EVERY POSSIBLE EDUCATIONAL ADVANTAGE.

IN 1961-'62 WE:

Had representatives at every school board meeting.

Kept track of all school legislation.

Participated in local, state and national programs for better schools.

Assisted with your social activities.

Maintained liaison with your faculty.

Worked on pre-registration.

Obtained improved traffic safety measures in the area.

Obtained improved recreational facilities.

Assisted in the financing of several scholarships.

Reviewed your curriculum. Assisted your library and book room.

Helped with self-programming.

DOING AN IMPORTANT JOB ON YOUR BEHALF,
THE P.T.A. IS A REAL MEMBER OF THE EDUCATIONAL TEAM

AN INDIVIDUAL LOOKS BACK

with fondness on his high school years for it was there he gained much of his individuality. These years saw the beginning of maturity, the development of understanding, and the first evidences of initiative and accomplishment.

More than the physical aspects of his experience in secondary education, the individual retains images of personalities who contributed of themselves to his growing process. These people displayed courage through opposition, determination through setbacks, devotion and dedication through everything. He remembers the stability and the moments of tension, but overall he remembers the symbol of reliability and inspiration they represented.

Words of Wisdom
Frisch from the Bard

Helena: "Man is an enemy to virginity; how may we barricado it against him?"

Parolles: "Keep him out... But it is not politic in the commonwealth of nature to preserve virginity. Loss of virginity is rational increase and there was never virgin got till virginity was first lost. That you were made of is metal to make virgins. Virginity by being once lost may be ten times found; by being kept, it is ever lost: 'tis a cold companion; away with't!"

W.S.
All's Well that Ends Well
Act I Scene I

I can't think of anything else
so I'll write something else you already through with Irony Anne but you'll need much more luck for next year - D Rnow.
Have fun this summer.
John Haigh '62

Mike —
Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
I'm handsome,
Why aren't you?
(Just kidding, we're both ave,
It's the others that aren't)
Doug

To a Guy who is Most brilliant in
P.S.S.C.!

Next Year Mike
You will be a Senior and one of the big guns like at school. In the Future I am sure there will be a path left behind you for others to follow. Good luck in the Future and in all your Plans For the Future
Pete Peterson

Mike,
This has been a pretty exciting
year, except on occasion in History (ha!) Be real good this summer and
I'll see you next year.
Love ya!
Sally
